Female patient consent for physical examination

As part of your assessment, you may be required to have an examination.

For women, urethral and vaginal region will be visually inspected and an internal examination may be performed. It does not matter if you are menstruating. The bottom will also be inspected and an internal examination of the rectum may also occasionally be required.

You can request another person to be present in the room during the examination eg your partner, other family member, friend or our practice nurse/staff. You will have your privacy maintained by a sheet and/or curtain.

Please inform the doctor if you do not wish this to be performed.

Without consenting to this examination it may not be possible to fully diagnose your condition.
